Conservation of Heat

How to Save One-Third of Your Fuel

Install in connection with your coal heater, a Jewell Heat Controller. This consists of two parts, a Thermostat with time clock attachment, which is placed on the wall of one of the rooms, and a Motor, which operates the valves or dampers of the heater and is placed at a convenient place in the cellar.

What It Will Do

You merely have to set the dial on the face of the Thermostat at the degree of temperature you wish to maintain in your rooms and the Controller keeps them heated within one degree of the mark set. With an even burning fire, much coal is saved and danger of overheating is avoided. The controller operates the dampers as well as could be done by a person staying all the time by the heater. As it will also open or close the dampers at any desired time, it makes it possible to have cool rooms at night and warm ones in the morning. It also enables you to keep a low temperature for several hours during the day if you are to be away and yet have warm rooms when you return. This means a large saving of coal and absolute protection against fire danger from overheating.

These Controllers are made in many styles and prices, from ten to fifty dollars. Sold and installed by

Save Your Money And Buy A Liberty Bond

When the European war broke out, Germany and England had their savings invested. They secured the funds immediately necessary by liquidating their investments, by selling the securities to the wealthiest neutral, the United States. We had our savings invested when we entered the war. We could not liquidate our investments, because we had no wealthy neutral to sell to. We were forced to raise our funds otherwise, out of current savings. So thrift has become a necessity. And the necessity of thrift has taught us and will teach us the blessings of thrift. Current savings made the first Liberty Loan a success, and they will make this second Liberty Loan a success.

PICK UPS ON WHEELS

I stopped at the Elmwood while in Phillips. It is a well kept homelike hotel and a good place for a 24 hour enforced lay off on account of sickness. My old affliction of indigestion visited me for the first time since last May. Dr. C. E. Higgins, who was a college classmate of Dr. L. H. Trufant of Norway was seen and I began feeling better before taking his medicine. The thorough examination, his cheerfulness and a sight of his handsome thoroughbred Air-dale was well worth the dollar.

A bobcat crossed the road a few rods ahead of the car while going from Weld to Phillips. He wasn't in much hurry and was as big as a small dog and would probably weigh from 20 to 30 pounds. This is the second one I've seen at liberty in the state. One was shot in Otisfield a few years ago and was shown the Advertiser force. It weighed 26 pounds and was a strong made, savage looking beast. The other tiger-cat was seen stocking a deer near Caribou Lake, some 12 miles south on Chesuncook some twenty years ago and gave me something of a fright as I was alone and without weapons except a fish rod.

Moses Hardy of Phillips is one of the oldest barbers in New England. He has occupied the same shop on Main street for the past 45 years and has been working at his trade for 49 years. In appearance he resembles closely Rev. J. H. Little of Bethel and I'm told both are good Methodists. His shop is a curiosity and I feasted my eyes on stuffed birds and animals. I recognized a portion of a picture of the late J. W. Brackett, editor of the Maine Woods and chairman of the Fish and Game Commission. It was while in his shop I was taken sick. I didn't let him know it, however.

Most everybody was at the Farmington fair including Scott Brackett and his mother, Lucy. Mr. Noyes, the office foreman, showed me about the well arranged and busy place. Somehow the office didn't look natural but Miss Hiscock, clerk and news editor, did, as she is a twin sister of a milliner who worked in Norway before marrying Dr. Sheehy and going to Rumford.

Some four thousand Maine Woods find their way over the world each week and the toothpick cartons made in their office are in every land where the sun of civilization shines. I was shown the process of the making, printing and cutting. Many of the cartons were gaudily printed rivaling the hues of the rainbow.

Phillips is a toothpick town much like Dixfield. Oscar H. Hersey, who at one time lived in Buckfield and was County Attorney for Oxford County, is the pioneer manufacturer here. His wife has recently died, but he has a son and daughter living here. Mr. Hersey had just gone to Massachusetts for the winter and I did not see him.

A. C. Tirrell, a native of Hemlock Hill, Buckfield, was seen. He has been with Mr. Hersey some twenty odd years and reports doing a large business and says Mr. Hersey is practically out of business and is taking life as easy as possible.

A good road leads to Rangeley but pretty much all the way up hill. Was not aware of it until on the return trip and it was then down hill and in places steep.

The Ellis Inn is a good looking all the year round hotel Rangeley has many public houses and sporting camps.

I met Wm. H. Burgess and wife of Burgess, Lang and Company, Boston, with friends, coming from Bald Mountain Camps where Bill, as he is familiarly known, closed the trout fishing season of 1917. I saw him in June at Moosehead and it seemed strange that we should meet at the season's close studying out road crossings in the Rangeley wilderness.

I intended stopping over night at J. E. Scott's, Quimby Pond Camps, but Mrs. Scott was so positive I could not get a fish, I gave it up and retraced my course. Mrs. Scott had her bedding up and furniture packed preparatory to closing. It is a beautiful place and I have an invitation to come next June at an expense of $250 per day guide and boat extra. The price is reasonable and I hope to go and become acquainted with Mrs. Scott and see the wonderful cake board over which she exclusively presides. She is not to go to New York this winter as usual, preferring to remain in the county until war conditions are settled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scott have run these camps for the past 23 years.

I saw "Fly Rod" with note book and crutch in hand. I did not speak to her, hence did not get my name in the paper.

Note—This was written some weeks ago and has been delayed for want of space. Local news always has the right of way.

I am at the farm and Mother is having a great time. Some weeks ago she made a solemn vow to look through the canned goods in the cellar and sort out the good from the bad. She is now doing it.

She has brought from the cellar several lots which are paraded in the kitchen and are undergoing tests. What that is, I do not know as I dare not go in as she is not in a trifling mood. There are quarts, pints and half-pints and a small wheelbarrow load of jelly tumblers.

From the smell creeping in to me, I know there is some trouble going on. It is a 14 year leave over of once good things now going into the dump. What is to be done with it, I can't say. Mother says many of the zinc bands about the top of the cans have corroded, letting the air in and thus spoiling the contents.

It would sure kill the pigs and none are here and to empty it in the pond would spell ruin to the few remaining trout. One dog has been let out and the other seeks relief in a corner and I'm driven to writing while the kitchen door is closed yet the smell is here.

If the operating a still was not unlawful I can easily guess what might be done in the line of conservation, but as it is the contents of the wash boiler with its blueberries, strawberries, cabbage and plum juices will be dumped on the bog back of the shed to draw flies and make wild beasts wonder as well as hunters who come this way.

It is a terrible affair, long accumulating and much delayed, but its thoroughness is praiseworthy. Wonder if the preserve closets of any of our readers are being treated to a similar clean out preparatory to restocking with this year's goods?

The Hudson Super-Six

As It Is Affected By New Prices
Suppose We Look at it This Way—

You are offered your choice of a great variety of automobiles.

All you are asked to pay for the car of your choice is the difference between what the car sells for and the price of a Hudson Super-Six.

Here are cars which sell at $1500 to $1600. Until recently they were priced at between $1,200 and $1,400.

But now they sell for more because recent increases in material costs has forced selling prices up to their present levels. So the only difference you must pay for a Hudson Super-Six is less than $100.

That is the situation as it stands today. The other cars have had to advance their prices so much that it has entirely readjusted the basis of values as they were known only a few weeks ago. It has brought former cheaper cars up to about the Hudson price. It has advanced higher priced cars than the Hudson so much that the difference between them is now $500 to $1000 greater. So far 51 makes have been advanced in price. The advances range from $100 to $700 according to make and model.

The Hudson has so far escaped the necessity for advancing its price. That is due to a fortunate turn in affairs which finds the Hudson factory supplied with a quantity of parts that were bought last year before material prices had shot up to their present unequalled heights. The other companies exhausted their supplies in the spring and had to enter the market when it was at its highest.

The Hudson prices can't stand long. Soon they, too, must advance. But the situation it offers is unique. It is a great opportunity for those who take advantage of it.

SUFFERING FROM COLD

If you shiver in frosty weather, if you have cold hands and feet, if colds are stubborn and frequent, then your blood may be thin and impoverished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

has been correcting this condition for nearly fifty years. It possesses rare powers for creating natural body warmth, for charging summer blood with winter richness and strengthening both throat and lungs.

The Norwegian cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is now refined in our own American laboratories which makes it pure and palatable.

AN OUNCE OF MEAT

An ounce of edible meat—lean meat, fat and lean, suet or fat trimmed from steak, chop or roast—seems hardly worth saving.

Many households take just this view of the matter—do not trouble to put such an insignificant scrap into the ice box or soup pot—do not bother to save for cooking a spoonful or two of drippings or a tiny bit of suet or fat.

Yet if every one of our 20,000,000 American families on the average wants each day only an ounce of edible meat or fat, it means a daily waste of 1,250,000 pounds of valuable animal food.

At average dressed weights it would take the gross weight of over 375,000 steers or over 3,000,000 hogs—bones and all—to provide this weight of meat or fat for each garbage pail or kitchen sink. If the bones and butcher's waste are eliminated, these figures would be increased to 1,500,000 cattle and 3,700,000 hogs.

Or, again, if the waste were distributed according to the per capita consumption of the various meats (excluding bones) it would use up a combined herd of over 533,000 beef animals, 291,000 calves, over 625,000 sheep and lambs, and over 2,132,000 hogs.

Millions of tons of feed and hay, the grass from vast pastures, and the labor of armies of cattlemen and butchers also would be scrapped by this meatwaste route.

USE CHEAPER FEEDS—SAVE GRAIN

The first effect of high-priced grain is to decrease interest in live stock. The competition of two dollar corn and two dollar wheat is driving many a dairy farmer to sacrifice his herd, and many a stock man to sell his corn instead of feeding it on the farm.

Cattle must not be allowed to compete with man for the grain crops. America needs cattle—not to consume the grain on the farm, but to convert grain refuse and roughage into meat and milk.

The United States Department of Agriculture says: "It is time to quit shoveling grain indiscriminately into live stock. Feeding grain to meat animals with a lavish hand is the cause of the nation's greatest food losses on the farms of this country. Hay, fodder, silage and pasture are the cheapest feeds and will carry animals along with a minimum of grain."

More extensive use of roughage in the cattle ration will release immense quantities of grain for human consumption and still maintain the cattle population of the country.

WILL NEW ENGLAND DO HER FULL SHARE

In Buying Liberty Bonds to Back Her Soldiers?

It is a Choice Between Drawing 4% Interest and Paying Taxes.

New England is marching sturdily and with spirit along the way to repaying on the Second Liberty Loan the splendid proof that she will do, as ever before, her full share in supporting the Government in time of need, in backing the soldiers and sailors, and air-fighters in every way in this war for human liberty.

The minimum allotment for New England on the Second Liberty Loan was $300,000,000, the maximum $600,000,000. On Tuesday, over two-thirds of the minimum had been reported by the banks and trust companies as taken up in subscriptions by the people of this section.

But this leaves a full third to be raised in this week. It is a situation which needs the utmost effort and aid from everyone.

The nation of which every man is a part, has called for financial aid. It has not asked its component parts to give it money and thereby take funds away from loved ones. The Government says: "Let me be your savings bank for a while and I will pay you 4 per cent for every dollar you loan me."

It is going to protect you and yours, your home, your land, your city, your town, your country from violation at the hands of a people who would conquer us.

Question of Duty

The whole Liberty bond question is a duty.

The New England Liberty Loan Committee gave out the following statement by Daniel G. Wing, president of the First National Bank:

"To my mind, there is just one overwhelming reason why we all—rich, poor and in-between, should subscribe promptly and to the extent of our ability, so that a large oversubscription will result: an oversubscription which should be shared in by 10,000,000 subscribers."

"The reason is this:

"Apparently Germany, or the German government still believes our people are not awake to the situation and that we have neither the determination nor the ability to make ourselves an effective fighting force. They know that we are able, but seem to doubt the willingness of our people as a whole to do that which we can do at once—furnish abundant money and credit for ourselves and the allies."

Will Hasten War's End

This loan is a test of the correctness of that belief. What we want most of all is to shorten the war and stop the suffering and loss of life. The end will be materially hastened if the German people realize that our resources are to be thrown into the scale effectively and willingly and as fast as they are needed."

Support Your Fighters

C. F. Wood, former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, says:

"If you purchase a Liberty Bond you help to support one or more soldiers who represent you and are fighting for you at the front. In a critical emergency you help your own government without any sacrifice to yourself. You can give and yet lose nothing by the giving. It is your country that the soldier fights for as well as his own. It is for your home for which he is ready to die."

"It is your wife and children whose lives and honor his own life defends. The chosen guard of your country are willing to go through hell itself for you and all you hold dear."

"The success of this Liberty Loan campaign will be to the whole world a declaration and a proof that America is in earnest and is grimly determined to put an end as soon as possible and once for all, to the hideous warfare which Germany waged to defeat, degrade and dominate the free peoples of the world."

Brings the War Home

Edmund Billings, collector of the Port of Boston says:

"Give" is not the word that should be used in this connection, rather "invest." Invest in the honor of your country. Invest in defence of your women and children and all that you hold dear. Not only what you can easily afford, but up to the last dollar that you can honestly rake and scrape together. Make some sacrifice and even then remember that it is a small thing you are doing compared to what you are asking and expecting and receiving from our soldiers and sailors."

Will Gain in Value

C. B. Strecker, sub-treasurer of the United States, says:

"There is no question that this bond is the very safest investment in which any individual can invest his money. If this Liberty Bond is not safe, then nothing is safe. The house furniture, or whatever other personal or real property you may own would be worth nothing if the government defaulted in the payment of these bonds, for this government would be forced to tax the people on every bit of property they owned, so that your property would be a burden instead of being an asset and the only obligation that would stand out untaxed would be this Liberty Loan."

NEW BEAR STORY

Experience of Two Milton Women

Two women of Milton, Mrs. Alice McAlister and Mrs. Ella Powers, had a thrilling experience one day when they were chased by a huge blind bear. They were returning in a team from the village store, when they saw in the road, a large black bear.

Mrs. McAlister, who was driving, used the whip on the horse, but in a few moments they saw that the bear was gaining on them. Fortunately, the bear stumbled and then unfortunately, one of the wheels of the wagon broke and the women were thrown out.

With great presence of mind, the women freed the horse from the wagon and then mounted the horses and rode for their lives, the bear in close pursuit. The horse seemed to realize the situation and put in its best work and succeeded in outdistancing the bear.

When the women reached a farm house they were almost exhausted. Two men saw the bear coming and hastily got their rifles and went to meet the animal. The bear, on seeing the men with the guns, turned and ran into the woods nearby.

"YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG"

Your flag and my flag—
And how it flies to-day,
And how it flies to-morrow,
And half a world away!
Red and blood-red,
The stripes forever gleam;
Snow-white and sun-white—
The good forefathers' dream.

Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars to gleam,
The guiding of the day; a shelter
Through the night.

Your flag and my flag!
To every star and stripe
The drums beat and the pipes
And pipers shrilly pipe!

Your flag and my flag—
A blessing in the sky!
Your hope and my hope—
It never hid a lie!

Home land and far land and half the world Around,
Old Glory hears our glad salute and ripples
At the sound!

Your flag and my flag!
How much it holds—
Your land and my land—
Secure within its folds!

Your heart and my heart—
Best quicker at the sight;
Your blood and my blood—
Red and blue and white!

The one flag—the great flag—the flag for me and you,
Glories all else beside—The red, the white,
and the blue.

The Plain Duty of Every AMERICAN

Your duty as an American citizen, is plain, definite and imperative.

Your sons and your neighbors' sons are going abroad to fight for their country, their flag, their homes—and for YOU.

They cannot fight without food, shoes, clothes, bread and bullets.

The government looks to you for the money to buy these things. Your duty is to lend—not give—this money.

It is more than duty—more than patriotism—it is a privilege to buy Liberty Bonds.

The money you pay for them will help win the war—help keep our soldiers fed, clothed, armed and protected—help keep your country safe and drive Kaiserism out of the world forever!

The United States Government guarantees to pay your money back. It pays you interest on your money semi-annually.

You can buy Liberty Bonds at any bank or bond dealer. You can buy them on the partial payment plan if you wish. Buy all you can.

Do you know what a "curtain of fire" is? It is when the enemy brings up thousands of pieces of artillery, great cannon firing shells as large as a man's body, one of which exploding among five hundred men could kill them all—other smaller guns firing shrapnel, with millions of bullets scarcely less destructive—hundreds of thousands of shells, all exploding along a certain line, until there is a real wall of explosion, a wall of death to be passed.

And our boys are going in—in where they use curtains of fire as they use matches—going in with high hearts and a laugh—and OUR boys will go THROUGH—some of them.

Brother, you can't go with them. You are too old, or you have too many dependents on you, or you can't pass the examination, or you are needed in your present work to keep the wheels of business moving at home.

What kind of stuff is there in you, brother? We want you to go in NOW. The nation needs your help—very badly. Are you going to hang back? We don't believe you would knowingly be a slacker. You'll do your bit if you know about it. And you know about it now, and the call has come—the nation needs you to do your bit today.

What Will You Say?

In a day or two days or three days people will begin to ask you, "Have you subscribed to the Liberty Loan yet?"

TO YOU

Don't you realize that this Government, under whose protection you live and prosper, is in the war to win, that it has NEVER known defeat, and for the sake of humanity is going to WIN THIS WAR no matter what the sacrifice? Don't you realize that the bill is going to be a big one and that you are going to pay Your share whether you want to or not, that if you have not the patriotism to do it cheerfully and willingly and for the love of your country that you will do it under compulsion? That you will pay the bill by taxation on everything you eat, wear and enjoy? If you are not patriotic, at least be sensible.

Let us give such overwhelming support to our government that it will show our boys that we are behind them. That it will assure our allies of our undying support, and that it will serve notice to our enemy that we are true Americans who will fight for a principle, and not money grasping, thinking only of our pocket-books. Think it over.

She was born in New York, May 18, 1841, the daughter of the late Henry G. DeWitt, but spent many years of her life at Snowville, N. H.

Her brother Jerome DeWitt's wife, died about twenty years ago, leaving him with eight small children and she patiently brought them all up to manhood and womanhood. It was one of these nephews, Chester DeWitt, with whom she spent the last years of her life and was kindly ministering unto him in return for the motherly care she had given him.

Besides these nieces and nephews, she leaves one brother, Clarence DeWitt and one sister, Mrs. R. W. Fogg, both of Harrison to mourn the loss of a dear sister.

Funeral services were held at Snowville, N. H., conducted by Rev. Pearce who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family, his text was "We spend our lives as a tale that is told." Burial at Snowville. Floral tributes were many and beautiful, bearing a silent testimony of love.

CLEANS THE BLOOD TONES THE NERVES

The gratifying results attending the faithful use of the new medicinal combination, Hood's Sarsaparilla before eating and Peptiron after eating, are seen in purer blood, stronger nerves, improved condition of the whole system.

They are results that make this course of treatment the most economical for sufferers from impure, impoverished blood, weak, unsteady nerves—no other accomplishes so much for each cent expended.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron aid each other, and to take both is to derive a four-fold benefit. If a laxative is needed in connection with them, the gentle and thorough Hood's Pills should be used.

You Should Buy

Liberty Bonds

BECAUSE: Your Government needs the money to equip and maintain an army and navy to protect you, your family, your property and your work from the military government of Germany which seeks to control the world.

Your country is in this war, and will fight it to a victorious finish. The money to pay the cost of preserving human liberty will be furnished by you and all Americans, either through taxation, which gives no money back, or Liberty Bonds which pay it all back with interest.

A Government bond is a promise to pay back all the sum borrowed, at a certain future time, with interest paid every six months. It is as good as cash, for you can sell it at any time.

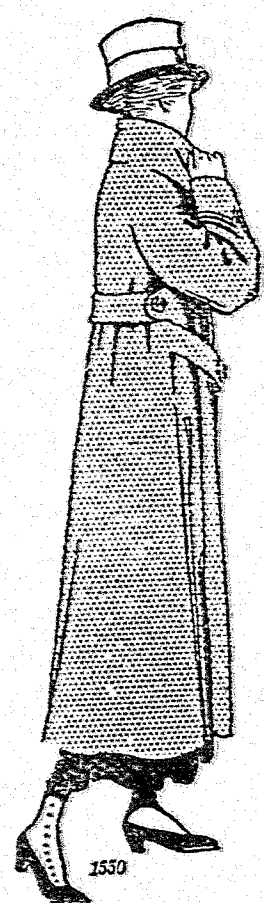

Your unselfish thrift will supply the money to win this war. Most of it is spent here for wages and material and helps business.

Help the boys at the front by saving for war bonds and buying more bonds.

Is question of asking our people to make substitutions to accomplish a definite war aim.

It is not asking our people to deny themselves anything in particular, or to reduce buying.

MAKE THE WORLD SAFE FOR BUSINESS

This war is not only a war to make the world safe for democracy. It is a war to make the world safe for life and liberty. And it is a war to make the world safe for business. This world is not big enough for both business and war. One of them must go.

If more wars are going to come; if every nation is going to be turned into a vast armed camp; if we have to see bayonets on every street corner and guns on every merchant ship; if we must tax our people and our commerce to support a vast army and an immense navy and be prepared to throw the whole power of the nation into the battle line at a 24 hours' notice—then business, as we in America understand it, cannot continue to exist. The burden will be too great.

The bonds are the best investment in the market—a direct obligation of the United States Government, bearing 4 per cent. interest, maturing in 25 years, free from the normal federal income tax and from local personal property taxes, readily marketable and readily available as collateral.

It is to your own best interests to go to your bank and subscribe—to-day.

We have hitherto been big spenders—the men of moderate means, as well as the men of wealth. We can be equally big savers. Practically every American can save a stated sum of money each week if sincerely desirous of doing so. Practically every American is desirous of doing so. We require only to be shown how we can save, how our small savings in themselves will amount to big savings if continued periodically, and how if invested simultaneously they will compound in an astonishing degree.

Here is how, buy a Liberty Bond on the partial payment plan.

James Griffin, the death of James Griffin adds one more to the list of old army veterans who have been practically helpless as the result of a shock, and had been kindly cared for at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. Mabel Cushman. His death came on Sunday evening, Oct. 14th. He leaves no near relatives in this country.

Mr. Griffin was born in Scotland around 79 years ago. At an early age he commenced to follow the sea, but entered the U. S. service during the early days of the war. While detailed on a gunboat during the James River campaign, he was captured by the rebels and confined in the military prison for some months at Richmond, Va. Reason Why You Should Buy Liberty Bonds

There are just as many reasons why you should buy Liberty Bonds as there are why you should call yourself a loyal citizen of the United States.

In proportion to our wealth and numbers we have not even approached the amount of money contributed by the citizens of our divided country during the Civil War.

IF WE BOUGHT BONDS AS OUR FATHERS DID THE PRESENT LOAN WOULD BE TEN TIMES OVER-SUBSCRIBED.

That we are lagging gives weight to the claim of our enemies that we are willing to send our boys to the front but are so stingy and greedy for gain that we will not feed, clothe and arm them. How do you think men will feel about "going over the top" if they know that the comfortable, warm, well-fed and safe citizens at home have buttoned up their pockets? They will "go over the top" and many of them will die, more will be wounded and then the awful lists will begin to come. Sympathy then will save no conscience. "I am sorry" will not go near so far to carry comfort to the stricken as the simple words, "I did all that I could."

Our enemies are hearing of victory at Riga. THEY ARE CLASSING US WITH THE DISORGANIZED RUSSIANS AND THE POORLY PREPARED RUMANIANS. They say we cannot and will not fight. Let them hear the thunderous Niagara of a flood of good American dollars promptly, even eagerly, poured into the lap of Liberty. Let them hear the big guns built with your money. Let them see laden ships literally stuffed with food, clothing, arms, shells and bullets. Let the boys at the front hear such a yell of dead-in-earnest fighting enthusiasm as never has heard on any field. Send the whole triple-multiplied force of a hundred million red-blooded, fighting mad, hammer-fisted Americans "over the top" of Germany or any other power who dares to desecrate this sweet world with self-seeking autocratic tyranny.

Do this and live in peace. Neglect it and live in disgrace, harassed by grinding taxes, internal strife, continued brawling and the contempt of all mankind.

To buy Liberty Bonds is good business, good politics, good finance and the best of economy.
